

TOMATO SEMI-LOOPER (Chrysodeixis acuta)

Tomato semi-loopers seldom occur in significant numbers and therefore do not seriously effect the potato.

The caterpillars are light green with longitudinal stripes and grow to a length of about 25 - 30 mm. They move with a typical looping gait or measuring action. The young larvae feed on the underside of leaves, skeletonising them.